NEW AND

Important Discovery

GRAY'S HAIR RESTORATIVE is a sure remedy for whitened Hair, whether Auburn, Brown or Black. It is a dressing for the hair, but is not to be used as a dye, for it will not stain the skin. It is the glass and pattern of the original Hair Dye of M. Bellouz.

Prominent Liquid Hair Dye,

the apparent success of which for years has induced many to attempt the production of a Hair Dye now for sale in this city. I deem it my duty to call your attention to it, as I know it will give to gray hair a natural color, and is entirely free from all injurious properties which would be likely to result from the use of such articles. I have no hesitancy in saying that I can give the most satisfactory evidence that it does not injure the hair, but that on many of my patients it has produced a new growth of hair, where the roots were not entirely destroyed. I will recommend it to all my friends as the best article I have ever used.

In short from its peculiar delicacy of softness and cleanliness in its use, it is the article most likely to meet with the approbation of the refined portion of community. It is well known that gray hair will look more youthful than white, and it will look still more youthful when restored to its original color. Full directions accompany each bottle.

Sold by the proprietor, No 3 Tremont Row, Boston, and by druggists throughout the country.

The Great Remedy for Gonorrhœa

CURES, Stricture and all complaints of the Urethra, by Dr DOUGLASS'S ARABIAN PASTILLE. Dr Douglass is well known having practiced in the public Hospitals in the East Indies during the last 10 years. His experience in treating the Late in this public manner is a sufficient assurance that there are thousands of ill treated complaints in this city—thousands of individuals who are going down to premature graves by taking the miserable drugs of quacks.

Dr D most solemnly affirms that during his practice of forty years this Paste has never in one single instance failed effecting a cure in a few days without any change of diet or hindrance from business. He has had some of the most stubborn cases—cases that have resisted the regular course of treatment adopted by our first physicians, for months and even years but after taking the Paste for a few days the angry symptoms disappeared and the patients were discharged entirely cured.

It is unfortunate that instead of purging the systems with quack nostrums, would purchase only one box of the Arabian Paste we should not see so many emaciated boilies and sallow countenances as we do at the present time.

The cost this Paste should fail to effect a cure in the shortest possible time, ten times the price paid for it will be given the purchaser on returning the empty boxes.

For sale only by the original inventor and sole proprietor Dr PETER G DOUGLASS at his Office No 251 Main st near Boston at $5 per box where he can be confidently consulted on every disease incident to the human frame and the patient rely upon the most beneficial cure of treatment that can possibly be adopted.

MOSES McDONALD, Treasurer

State of Maine.

HEAD QUARTERS
Augusta Sept 4 1848

THE appointment of companies to the several divisions of the militia of Maine according to the provisions of the law now in force, gives to the

1st division		26 companies

It will be seen by this law that divisions are allowed the term of two years to raise their quota of volunteers, at the expiration of which on failing to furnish the number of companies to which they are entitled, other divisions will be authorized to raise them on petitioning to the commander in chief. It is hoped that the martial spirit of our citizens has not become entirely extinct by the long suspension of active military service but that there still exists in our State those military and patriotic impulses that will ensure a willing and prompt return to duty and a vigorous organization in each division of the militia of Maine of all the force allowed by law.

Independent companies already organized are invited to join the volunteer corps of our State, and whenever they indicate to this department their wish and determination to comply with the provisions of law they will be furnished with arms by the State.

Our citizens generally are also invited to organize new companies with becoming promptitude, petitions for which may be forwarded to the office of the Adjutant General.

The State has now on hand a variety of muskets and rifles and in a few weeks will be in possession of nearly one thousand percussion rifles, of the latest and most approved model which will be subject to the order of companies first making application. By the Commander-in Chief,

ALFRED REDINGTON.

☞ Mr Wm Flagg, cook of the brig Canova, Capt Trimbu, is missing from that vessel under circumstances which leave little or no doubt that he is drowned

On Friday last Flagg was intoxicated all day and on Saturday morning he arose early, his nervous system greatly shattered, and he trembling, went upon deck The vessel was at anchor in the river and when the crew came upon deck Flagg could not be found The prints of his hands were seen in the frost upon the railing, and it was evident he had been vomiting

The supposition is a very natural one that he leaped or fell overboard and drowned although it is hardly possible but not probable that he designed His residence was in Kirkland where he left a family His age was about 50

Lime for Trees and Plants

In my second number I commenced upon an article which was giving the nuisance in the papers, recommending to us the use of fresh caustic lime for fruit trees In the article referred to, it was said, "By applying a pick or such a matter of fresh caustic lime around the trunks of peach trees, in the spring we have found it to produce excellent results

A writer for the Boston Cultivator, under date of Oct 28th, which dates from Burke Co Va and who had written an article dated the 29th of January last, giving an account of the appearance of a blasted peach orchard, says, I now resume my pen to redeem the fair promise, which may be considered as having then been made, and to add the following notice, after a visit to the Delaware orchards of the Messrs Reynolds, which has enabled me to speak confidently on the subject I found the general condition of the blasted trees most deplorable not one of them but was shedding its untimely fruit as well as its leaves and I have no doubt that a small peach ever came to maturity Whether these trees will ever recover their health, is a question which cannot now be solved, but from present appearances I am inclined to say, never, a large proportion having already, gone dead, without the intervention of worm or the yellows

Lime alone should never be applied to land, trees, or fruits, unless in very small quantities and not then, unless the soil contains sulphuric acid

In my next number I propose to tell farmers how they can detect the presence of sulphuric acid in the soil A GLENBURN FARMER

An Incident of Travel.

Among the passengers in the steamer Connecticut from this city to New Haven last Sunday morning, were the wife of a Cornish miner by the name of R ws, and five or six children, chiefly girls, the oldest not exceeding ten or eleven years of age, and the youngest a babe They arrived here from Wales by sailing two weeks since, and were on their way to the Bristol (Conn) copper mines, where they hoped to meet the husband and father—As the steamer was leaving the wharf, the mother started the gang way almost frantic with anxiety and grief Had the kind hearted captain (Baldwin) been present and understood her case, he would have waited till her daughter had come on board, or until the mother and her other children could be put on shore But as it was the family were separated, under circumstances of peculiar trial It appears that a few minutes before the steamer started the mother sent her oldest daughter a girl between 12 and 14 years of age, to buy some bread Before she returned, the steamer was off for New Haven What the poor girl s thoughts were, when she returned to the wharf, and found the boat gone, and herself left in a strange city of half a million inhabitants, we know not, but can partly imagine The mother was, if possible, still more distracted When she found that the steamer was actually off, and that there was no hope of returning to the wharf, all the tender sympathies of a parent s heart were awakened within her, and she ran about the boat cry ng "Oh, my child! my poor child Oh oh oh" The steward of the boat and some of the passengers tried to console her by telling her that the little girl would no doubt be taken care of, and be sent up to her at New Haven by the evening boat This afforded her a gleam of hope, but her fears still predominated What could Matilda do penniless, in the midst of strangers, without a home, or friend for knowledge of anything around her Whom could she trust How liable to be decoyed away by villains, and reserved for a doom worse than death? Hagar in could not have desired a more lively personification of grief than when that mother, after seeing in a measure quieted, sat sobbing in her corner, nursing her infant and hugging it to her bosom while her other children, except the last one, sat around her on the floor, not one of them uttering a cry, but every countenance expressive of the deepest sorrow, Presently Capt Leteda came along and sat down by them, and after some soothing remarks, returned to them the whole of their passage money Several dollars more also given them by passengers—This was the more needful, as by waiting for Matilda at New Haven until Saturday evening they were under the necessity of spending the Sabbath there, as there was no subsequent train for Bristol until Monday But what if Matilda should not come? What if they should never see her again? These apprehensions, together with the anxiety already endured, produced symptoms of mental aberration in the mother, even before she arrived at New Haven Immediately on their arrival, a telegraphic despatch was forwarded to Messrs Saxton & Webb, agents of the line in New York requesting them to send by the afternoon boat the little girl that was left in the morning, and stating that the mother would wait for her at New Haven On receiving this message, Messrs Saxton & Webb, who had no previous knowledge of the mishap, went to the wharf and found the little girl crying This must have been at least five hours after the steamer s departure—They told her the message they had received from New Haven, and that they would send her safe to her mother in a few hours, which they accordingly did, free of cost Thus after a day of fearful anxiety and suspense, the family circle was again united to the great joy of all,—I judge the shattered mind of the mother prevented her from a full appreciation of the fact The family she spent the Sabbath with, informed us that she was evidently a good deal deranged, and that Matilda said she had been so before Her former derangement was occasioned by the loss of a husband, and child, (the latter being burnt or scalded to death) On Monday she and all her children took the Rail Road train at Bristol, and must have reached their destination in a few hours afterwards.

Here is one small chapter in the life of a poor, hard working woman, and if we could read the unwritten history of families and individuals, how many such scenes, or others equally as still more affecting, would rise upon our vision—N Y Jour. of Commerce.

SEVEN DAYS LATER
From Europe.

The Hibernia arrived at Boston on Friday, bringing seven days later intelligence

ENGLAND

Cotton market dull, and a further decline of one eighth of a penny per lb on all descriptions

Provision trade quiet, with a tendency downward in prices

At present the value of American Wheat is 7s 4d to 8s 9d per bushel Flour sells slowly at 31s to 32s 6d for Canadian Indian Corn, meeting an improved inquiry for export to Ireland, has recovered the reduction on prices, and present rates in Liverpool are 25s to 26s for white, and 32s to 37s for yellow per quarter Indian Meal is selling at 19s 6d to 18s per barrel

The alarm caused by the appearance of the Cholera in England has almost wholly subsided But very few cases had proved fatal

IRELAND

Mr O Donohue has been convicted

The trial of Mr Thomas F Meagher commenced on the 16th

CASE OF O BRINE Petitions from all parts of the Ireland are pouring in upon the Lord Lieutenant, for the pardon of Smith O Brien, or the commutation of his punishment

In the case of Mr O Brine an application has been made for a writ of error—which the Attorney General has declined to grant, until (as is supposed) he shall have consulted with the heads of the government

ALARMING STATE OF VILNNA

The state of the city on the 10th, 11th and 12th is thus described in letters published in the Breslau Gazette

"The drums are beating, and the alarm is sounded We are to attack Amtersberg to day An ultimatum has been sent to Jellachich to leave Austrian ground At the Northern rail way the ammunition wagons sent by Windischgratz to Amtersberg have been seized Seven hundred students have just arrived from Gratz The landstorm of the Wohaninger district is rising, the Diet is assembling

"The military chest and city of the Belvidere have assumed a menacing attitude they are tired of their position Four students, they made prisoners have been hanged The military is said to have been driven out of Lintz, and that town occupied by the peasantry Troops from Bohemia are said to have crossed the Danube at Klosterneuburg All here are prepared for the struggle

"It is impossible to relate the many reports current in the town, but what causes the most serious alarm is the position of Count Auersberg Notwithstanding the declaration of the Diet, of the pacific intentions of the Count and all the Big great anxiety is felt Last night at twelve the drums beat to arms, as it was observed that all Auersberg s watch fires had been extinguished and an attack upon the city during the night was expected The guns were immediately drawn up for action on the bastions at the gates and before the university At ten this morning the guns at the gates were withdrawn After williams seized by Auersberg s men are put to death without his knowledge Four bodies have just been found in the canal

Twelve o clock (noon) The joyful news has just been received that fifteen steamers have arrived at Presburg, with ten thousand to fifteen thousand Hungarians, commanded by Messaros They may be expected at six to-morrow morning to crush Jellachich

Five, P M The gates are being shut, and the guns prepared for action

Half past Seven, P M The city is brilliantly illuminated, as a precautionary measure The excitement is fearful

Every one is flying

"Here our accounts stop"

Postscript We have received the Vienna papers of the 14th No hostilities had then taken place, but as the Hungarians were within eight miles of the city, and the Diet had refused to accede to the demands of the Ban, we may shortly expect to hear of a battle

We have Berlin papers to the sixteenth—Some disturbances had taken place there Several persons had been shot by the burgher guard who were called out

FRANCE

The Assembly were proceeding rapidly with the discussion on the constitution

The Red Republican clubs are making alarming demonstrations At their banquets the sentiments of the "reign of terror," and its chief actors and instigators are loudly and openly applauded

General Cavaignac, finding it impossible to resist the decided tone of the Assembly, has agreed to a slight modification of the Ministry It has been got over very quietly, and without the least discussion in the Assembly

Fatal Collision on the Eastern Rail Road.

A collision occurred on Thursday night between two trains on the Eastern Railroad, which was dreadfully fatal in its results—six persons having lost their lives

The facts, so far as we have been able to ascertain, are as follows The train was proceeding from Lynn to Salem, with a large party of Whigs on their return from the Whig meeting in Lynn The train consisted of five or six cars filled with passengers

Another was a train from Salem on its way to Marblehead, with a party of Democrats, on their return from a Democratic meeting in Salem

On reaching the turn out at Marblehead junction the switch, unexpectedly to the engineer, was arranged for the Lynn train to pass to Salem The consequence was that the Salem and Marblehead train was run on to the wrong track, and before this accident could be remedied and the train removed, the Lynn and Salem train reached the spot while going at great speed, ran into the other train The collision was of violent, that the engines of both trains were smashed, so as almost completely to destroy them

The cars of the Marblehead train were thrown into a heap and broken to pieces Five persons in this train were killed instantly, and six others were badly injured, one of whom died the next morning

The following are the names of the killed, as reported

Samuel Manning, of Marblehead, a young married man

Nathaniel W. Roundy, of do

John G Stevens, of do

John Cross, of do, about 15 years, son of a widow

Henry Trefry, about 20, son of the Cashier of the Marblehead Bank

A lad by the name of Russel

Among those wounded was a son of Capt. B Brown, who had both legs broken, Frank Curtis broken leg, Thomas Clothey, collar bone broken, Seth Hathaway, badly bruised, Moses Hill, Esq, all of Marblehead—and others whose names we have not heard

The Conductor, Engineer and Fireman of the Marblehead train, were somewhat injured, but it is hoped not seriously Some of the passengers in the first car were thrown a considerable distance by the concussion, but escaped injury

We understand that an investigation of the cause of this sad affair, (the first collision which has occurred on this road) will be immediately made

The Marblehead train being a small one, was literally rode down by that from Lynn. The Salem Register forwarded us a slip giving full details of the accident, which we have partially incorporated in the above account.

The British packet of August 26th, has accounts from Rio Grande to the 18th, from which it appears that there was on the night of the 12th at Rio Grand, a strong N W Gale, during which an American barque was driven ashore, and also a brig, nation unknown

A schooner from San Pedro was lost outside of the bar, and the crew having taken to the boat, all hands perished except a black man who clung to the masts of the schooner and was saved In consequence of heavy rains all the lakes had overflowed, and the country generally was flooded, but the inhabitants have suffered no material damage

Ex Governor McNutt of Mississippi, died at Memphis, Tenn on the 23d ult He was, we believe, a delegate to the Baltimore Convention and if we mistake not, has been stumping it for Cass and Butler throughout the whole campaign—[Balt Clipper, Nov 2

☞ The Cholera (says the Boston Medical and Surgical Journal,) will soon be in the United States, but its ravages here, will probably never equal those in Europe

The physicians at Constantinople have recommended the use of figs, with great success as a preventive of cholera This fruit is said to exercise a healing influence upon the stomach and bowels and is highly useful in diseases which manifest themselves in a derangement of the digestive functions and commonly precede an attack of the cholera

Evening Hours of Mechanics.

"What, says the North of Scotland Gazette, in an article in favor of the early closing of shops, "what have evening hours done for mechanics who had only ten hours toil? What in the moral, what in the religious, what in the scientific world? Hearken to these facts! One of the best editors the Westminster Review could even boast that one of the most brilliant writers of the passing hour, was a cooper in Aberdeen One of the editors of a London daily journal was a baker in Elgin, perhaps the best reporter on the London Times was a weaver in Edinburgh, the editor of the Witness was a stone mason One of the ablest ministers in London was a blacksmith in Dundee, another was a watchmaker in Banff, the late Dr Milne of China was a herd boy in Rhyne, the Principal of the London Missionary Society s College at Hong Kong was a saddler at Huntly, and one of the best missionaries that ever went to India was a tailor in Keith The leading chemist on the London and Birmingham Railway with £700 a year, was a mechanic in Glasgow, and perhaps the very richest ironfounder in England, was a working man in Manchester Sir James Clarke her Majesty s physician was a druggist in Banff Joseph Hume was a doctor first and then a laborer at the pestle and mortar in Montrose, Mr Macgregor the member for Glasgow, was a poor boy in Rosshire, James Wilson, the member for Westbury, was a ploughman in Haddington, and Arthur Anderson, the member for Orkney, earned his bread by the sweat of his brow in the Ultima Thule! What an array of great workingmen Like New England, the excellent parish school system of Scotland has made her sons honored and renowned throughout the world The evening hours of our young mechanics are more valuable than they are aware of and it would be well if in our cities some better places of resort were to be found for the moral and mental encouragement of our young men There are few who have had an opportunity of judging like ourselves, of the great necessity of good Mechanics Associations for our young men Some such institutions as will woo them from the many snares and foolish wiles that lead them into folly and keep the mind dark or the want of knowledge—[Scientific American
